Editor Herald: I see by the Her ald that the sewer question is agitating your people, and infer, from what I have read, that it is not a question of whether or not to but in a sewerage system, but a question of ways and means. Perhaps the methods pursued in a town of 6000 people, in which I formerly resided, may be of some interest to you. With them it was wholly a question of ways and means, and after thoroughly inevstigating every plan presented, we adopted the following method: The city was first laid out in sewer districts and a plan for a eral delinquents before it lately, complete system was adopted. Then the city council passed an ordinance providing that when any portion of the sewer system should be ordered by the council the cost thereof should be charged to the abutting property, the city, however, paying the excess of cost over that of laying twelve inch pipe was laid in the city would pay the difference be-tween the cost of eight and twelve of the members of the inch pipes. I do not know, but it worked well with us, and is submitted to your consideration for what it is worth. SUBSCRIBER. Lyford, Texas, Sept. 14.
